

FOOD + TECHNOLOGY + OWNERSHIP

WELCOME TO CHEW NETWORK

ROUND 1 • INVESTOR WELCOME KIT

You did more than discover Chew Network.
You became part of it early.

This welcome kit introduces the vision you are helping us build, the investor resources now available to you, and the journey ahead.

ROUND ONE

Planned investment journey: Round 1 → Round 2 → Round 3

Each future financing round is intended to provide additional resources for the company to build, launch, grow, and expand. As an existing owner, company growth can strengthen the enterprise in which your ownership interest exists, although no future valuation, liquidity event, acquisition, or return is guaranteed.

WELCOME, EARLY OWNER.

On behalf of Chew Network, thank you for believing early. There is a special difference between discovering a company after the world already knows its name and choosing to participate while the story is still being written.

You are joining Chew Network during Round 1, the earliest of three investment rounds currently contemplated by the company. Your participation helps provide resources for technology development, brand building, content, audience growth, partnerships, operations, and the larger food-and-technology ecosystem we envision.

Our ambition is significant: we envision Chew Network growing into a category-defining food-technology company. We hope to build a company capable of becoming a major independent enterprise - and, if the future creates the right opportunity, one that larger technology or consumer companies may find strategically attractive. That is an aspiration, not a promise. If no acquisition path develops, our objective remains the same: keep building, expanding, and creating value inside Chew Network itself.

“The goal is not to build one app. The goal is to open a much larger door where food, technology, content, community, creators, restaurants, commerce, and AI can live together.”

Most importantly, you are not standing outside watching this happen. Your investor records document your place in the company. Your dashboard is designed to keep that relationship organized, transparent, and accessible as the journey develops.

WHAT YOU ARE HELPING US BUILD

Chew Network is being built around a simple truth: food touches virtually everyone. We believe technology can change how people discover food, learn to cook, share experiences, find restaurants, build audiences, and eventually participate in commerce around food.

CHEF PEPE Our planned AI cooking companion - designed to help people ask questions, understand meals, learn techniques, and receive useful step-by-step cooking guidance.	SEE IT. COOK IT. Our visual food-technology experience - built around showing a meal, ingredients, or a recipe and turning what the user sees into a more useful cooking experience.
CHEW CONTENT NETWORK We plan to build a recognizable food-media presence across social platforms, using original channels, personalities, stories, recipes, restaurant experiences, and entertaining food content.	CREATOR + RESTAURANT ECOSYSTEM We intend to scout talented influencers, home cooks, chefs, food personalities, and restaurants that can help make Chew entertaining, useful, credible, and culturally relevant.

A BUSINESS WITH MULTIPLE POSSIBLE REVENUE ENGINES

As Chew develops, the company plans to explore revenue from multiple areas rather than relying on a single product. Those areas may include applications and technology products, advertising and sponsorships, affiliate relationships, branded and original content, creator collaborations, restaurant partnerships, digital experiences, and online food or recipe tastings and programming. Specific products, partners, revenue models, timing, and economics may change as the company develops.

The larger strategy is to create a flywheel: technology attracts users, content builds attention, creators and restaurants add personality and reach, audience growth creates partnership opportunities, and the entire ecosystem gives Chew more ways to build a durable business.

ROUND 1: YOU ARRIVED EARLY

Chew Network currently contemplates three investment rounds. Each round is intended to correspond with a more developed company and provide new capital for the next stage of execution. The terms, timing, eligibility, pricing, valuation, and structure of any future round will be determined separately and may change.

ROUND 1	FOUNDATION	Early ownership participation. Build technology, infrastructure, content systems, investor operations, and initial audience.
ROUND 2	GROWTH	Planned future financing stage intended to support broader launches, audience growth, partnerships, products, and expansion.
ROUND 3	SCALE	Planned later financing stage intended to support a more mature Chew ecosystem and larger-scale company objectives.

Why can future fundraising matter to an existing owner? New capital can give the company additional resources to build products, hire talent, market, acquire users, pursue partnerships, and expand operations. If those efforts strengthen the company, existing owners participate in the fortunes of a stronger enterprise according to the rights attached to their ownership. However, fundraising itself does not guarantee an increase in value. Future rounds can also affect capitalization, ownership percentages, rights, and dilution depending on their terms.

Your official ownership is determined by your executed documents and the company's records - not by promotional projections. Your dashboard is designed to show the information applicable to your account.

THE PEOPLE WHO CAN MAKE CHEW FEEL ALIVE

Technology is only part of the story. Food is emotional, social, cultural, entertaining, and deeply human. That is why our vision includes building a media and creator ecosystem around the technology.

We plan to seek out talented food influencers, emerging creators, home cooks, professional chefs, restaurant personalities, and standout restaurants that can help Chew tell stories people actually want to watch and share.

Our goal is to develop Chew-owned channels and content across major social platforms - not simply to advertise an app, but to become part of the food conversation itself. Imagine recipe challenges, chef-versus-home-cook formats, restaurant discoveries, tasting experiences, creator spotlights, food experiments, behind-the-scenes stories, and technology that lets viewers move from watching food to interacting with it.

If Chew grows, the people who helped create that growth - employees, creators, partners, restaurants, and investors - may participate in different ways according to their individual agreements. As a Round 1 investor, your financial rights are the rights specifically granted by your investment documents and reflected in the company's official records.

THE JOURNEY WE ENVISION

We use the word unicorn as an ambition: a privately held company valued at more than $1 billion. We want Chew Network to build toward the scale, products, audience, brand strength, and business performance that could someday make that description relevant.

We also believe that a successful food-technology platform could become strategically interesting to larger technology, commerce, media, food, or consumer companies. An acquisition is one possible future path - not the definition of success and not a guaranteed outcome.

If another company never acquires Chew, the mission does not end. The opportunity simply becomes broader: continue launching products, expanding the audience, creating new revenue engines, developing partnerships, entering new markets, and growing Chew as an independent company.

OUR NORTH STAR

Build something useful enough that people use it, entertaining enough that people talk about it, and valuable enough that the business can keep expanding.

That is the journey you have chosen to join at an early stage. Early-stage investing involves meaningful risk, and the future will never move in a perfectly straight line. There will be development cycles, testing, changes, wins, setbacks, and new opportunities. Our responsibility is to keep working, communicate material developments appropriately, and make decisions intended to build a stronger company.

WELCOME ABOARD.

There may come a day when someone discovers Chew Network through a video, a restaurant, Chef Pepe, See It. Cook It., a creator, a partnership, or a product that does not even exist yet.

If that day comes, you will know you were here during Round 1.

You joined while the company was still building the technology, shaping the brand, assembling the ecosystem, and opening the first doors. We do not take that trust lightly.

Thank you for investing in Chew Network.

Thank you for giving us the opportunity to build.
Thank you for joining the journey early.

Food. Technology. Ownership.
Welcome to Chew Network.
